

Social Development Program - Egypt

This nine month-long project encourages activities of the “Integrated Services for the Poor program” and involves infrastructure works as well as social development activities like education, vocational training or health in urban and rural areas suffering from poverty.

The overall objectives are to reduce poverty and to improve socio-economic development by supporting employment and income generation for the poor. The specific purpose relates to following components:

- Infrastructure works such as the construction and improvement of roads, the covering of canals, the improvement of potable water networks and waste water management or the rehabilitation of Health centres.
- The allocation of grants for local development initiatives in the field of environment, sustainable development, health, education, social development etc. form part of the assignment as well as building institutional capacities in the region.
- A Call for Proposals and works tenders have to be prepared and launched and the participation in the tender evaluation committee is expected. The works contractors have to be evaluated and selected and the Project Implementation Unit and Project Coordination Team have to be trained.
